Dear Francis:

Thank you for your nice letter of December 6.

We are planning to be in Great Britain between March 18 and March 29. Our time before the meeting is pretty well occupied already and we will have to fly back before the end of March in order to avoid the high season fares. However, if we can find any chance to drop up to Cambridge we will not neglect the opportunity.

I had not yet seen your note in Nature on the amino acid assay. However, I am looking forward to seeing a more complete description of the base sequence in the corresponding gene.

Yours sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg
Professor of Genetics
